

homecoming

"the greatest show on turf"

Homecoming 2018 at Southwest truly proved to be "The Greatest Show on Turf." Homecoming week kicked off with activities ranging from a cookout to a movie night. This year featured an addition of a dunking booth, and coaching staff and students had an immense amount of fun both dunking and being dunked. To correspond with the theme, The Greatest Showman premiered in the auditorium for everyone on campus to attend and enjoy. Students, staff, and faculty recounted the fun that was had during the week at the cookout, and the laughter shared between attendees brought everyone closer together. The Homecoming Queen was Creshona Kenny, and the Student Body Maid was Makayla Jackson. The Freshman Maids were McKena Hendersonm, Kylie Troutman, and Linley Smith. The Sophomore Maids were Jami Spears, Tarmaria Carter, and Anna Klaire Dorr. Homecoming honorees were Jeremy Holmes, Alumnus of the Year; Kermit Davis, Jr., Sports Hall of Fame; and Pat Brumfield, Foundation Hall of Fame.

"The Greatest Show on Turf" was destined to be the most fantastic homecoming the Southwest student body had ever experienced. Campus spirit was through the roof, and "The Greatest Show on Turf" would forever be a homecoming week to remember.

by Madison VanNess

left: Junior Court members pose for a picture: Megan Smith, Kaiden Brister, Payton Elise Deer, Kayleigh Fite, Colin Calhoun, Valecia Silver Keyslee Cameron, Gabrielle Denise Poole, Kennedy Allyn Hicks, and Tucker McGehee; top far left: Linley Smith, Freshman Maid, glides across the field with her father, Stephen Smith; top middle: McKena Henderson, Freshman Maid, walks across the field with her father, John Henderson; top left: Kylie Troutman, Freshman Maid, poses for a photo with her stepfather, J.R. McBeth; top right: Jami Spears, Sophomore Maid, makes her way to the center of the field with her father, Jason Spears; opposite page: Creshona Kenny, Homecoming Queen, smiles to the fans with her father, Chris Kenny; middle: Makayla Jackson, Student Body, makes her way to the middle of the field alongside her grandfather, Sammy Jackson Jr.; above right: Tarmaria Carter, Sophomore Maid, poses for a picture next to her father, Eddie Carter; above left: Anna Klaire Dorr, Sophomore Maid, flashes a smile to the crowd with her father, Mitch Dorr.

